

CONFIDENTIAL

November 22, 1963

Lee Harvey Oswald was observed at the Texas School Book Depository at approximately 12:30 PM. Multiple witnesses reported hearing shots from the grassy knoll area, which contradicts the official findings.

Further analysis of ballistic evidence suggests the possibility of additional shooters, though this remains unproven.

The Warren Commission's investigation concluded that Oswald acted alone, but numerous inconsistencies have been noted by independent researchers.

CIA and FBI files related to the assassination remain partially classified.
